March Of Dimes Campaign Opens Here This Week

James Catlett Named Director; $2,000 Quota Set; Clydia Young Is Campaign Queen

James Catlett, director of the March of Dimes Campaign in Caldwell county, this week issued an urgent appeal to individuals to contribute liberally in an effort to reach the county quota of $2,000. A county committee was also named.

"In the last five years, 1,212 Kentuckians were stricken with polio," Mr. Catlett said. "The March of Dimes is the sole financial support of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis."

"The minimum need for Kentucky this year is $350,000. The goal for the 1948 March has been set at $500,000 with a view to taking advantage of a broader treatment program during the coming year. On this basis the county quota was set.

"For the last several years there were no quotas. In 1947, $44,600 was raised here. This year we are asked to contribute nearly twice that amount. It will be a generous giving on the part of everyone.

"The drive is officially proclaimed January 15-30 but began Monday, with placing of campaign boxes in stores, to allow extra time for reaching the goal," Mr. Catlett said.

Clydia Ruth Young, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Young, route 2, has been selected as County Campaign Queen. Little Miss Young was stricken with polio at the age of 2. Following treatment at the Kosair Hospital in Louisville, where she was a complete invalid, this gallant little girl with a fighting spirit has overcome her handicap to such an extent she can walk and play, although she must wear braces.

Miss Mary Wilson Eldred is director of the campaign. Joe Long will conduct the Mile-O-Miles Saturday, assisted by members of the Teen Age Club. County committeemen for the drive are: American Legion, Dutch Mitchell; V. F. W., William McCaslin and Ralph Keen; Elks Club, Gordon Glenn, Earl Brown and Brad Lacy; Women's clubs, Mary Wilson Eldred; grade schools, Russell Dodaker; Butler High School, A. Horn; Country Club, Howie McGough and Mr. and Mrs. McElroy; Teen Age Club, Harry Long, Nancy Cardin, Ann Pickering and Betty Jo; Kiwanis, John Morgan and James McCaslin; Rotary Club, Elwood Cook; Jaycees, Joe McCaslin; Retail Merchants Association, Merle Drain, Hillery Barnett and Saul Pogrosky; Masonic Lodge, Arlof Walker; Industries, Grayson Harralson and Buck Bishop, and dime counters, Bayless Wadlington. Gwendolyn Orday Baker is chairman for Fredonia.

During the campaign, solicitations will be made by mail, by boxes and at the theater," Mr. Catlett said.

Reports On Soil Building Due Soon

February 15 Last Date for AAA Application, Receipts Required

Farmers are asked to report their last year's soil building practices to the county AAA office as soon as possible to receive payment under the 1947 program, Mrs. Lillian Pruett, secretary, said this week.

Soil building practices include use of any limestone, phosphate or mixed fertilizer, seedlings of grasses and legumes, winter cover crops and the harvesting of clover and vetch seed. Applications for payment must be signed no later than February 15. Mrs. Pruett said, and receipts of last year's soil building expenditures are required.

Family Tree Grows Right Through Roof

Bardwell —(P)— A huge hackberry tree growing through the floor and out of the roof of a Bardwell restaurant has become a landmark. Curious tourists are told this story by 74-year-old Francis W. Turk, restaurant-tree fancier.

Some years ago while driving through the country, Turk saw a sapling washed out by rains and destined to die. He took the sapling home and set it out in the corner of his front yard. It flourished into a sizeable tree by the time Turk decided to build a restaurant on the site.

"I love trees," he said. A contractor bowed to Turk's feeling and built around the tree.

The tree trunk now is 12 inches in diameter. Patrons hang their hats on the hackberry tree's spikes.

Service Begins On County REA Lines

Completed Sections Extend From Highway 93 To Tandy's Crossroads

Initial electric service on REA lines under construction in Caldwell county began December 20 and 21, Howard Wiggins, manager of the Pennyrite Electric Corporation, Hopkinsville, told The Leader Monday.

The completed sections extend from where Highway 93 enters the county, near Cadiz, to Tandy's Crossroads, a distance of approximately seven miles. Other lines will be energized as they are completed, Mr. Wiggins said. He estimated all lines will be in operation in about three weeks.

The corporation will probably begin receiving applications for new lines in the spring, Mr. Wiggins said, but it is not now known how much money will be available for further service expansion.

Burley Prices High As Sales Resume

Pool Gets 58 Percent Of Dark Fired Leaf Offered Opening Day

Opening prices for Burley tobacco were steady with before Christmas sales, officers of the Hopkinsville Planters Warehouse Floors told The Leader Wednesday when the market reopened. Floors were reported full with good quality leaf and few baskets were going to the pool. Prices ranged to an average of $59 and $60 a hundredweight.

Short sales will be held on all Hopkinsville floors until Friday, the number of baskets sold limited to a percentage of warehouse capacity. After Friday the market operates on a three hour selling day.

Court Applies For Federal Aid In Hospital Project

County Eligible For $90,000 From Government; Simmons Urges Prompt Pledge Payments

Called in a special meeting Tuesday, the Caldwell County Fiscal Court made formal application to the government, under the Federal Hospital Construction Act, for $90,000 toward construction and equipping the proposed new hospital here.

Application will be made in four parts, a courthouse official said, and part 1, filed by the court, covers tentative planning and estimates of cost as made by Sam C. Molloy, architect. Total cost is estimated at $270,000.

Plans call for a 40-bed institution providing surgical, obstetrical, general medicine, radiography and fluoroscope facilities, ad laboratory services. The suggested plan calls for a 2-story building of the "T" type with arrangement for future expansion. It will be of reinforced concrete frame with exterior brick walls.

The application estimates the operating cost for the first year at $40,000, with hospital income sufficient to meet expenses. A breakdown of construction funds available shows $40,000 in cash, $58,000 in pledges and $100,000 in bonds, making the county eligible for $90,000 government aid. A balance of $18,000 is held for an emergency fund and for purchase of a site.

Tom Simmons, hospital chairman, pointed out the plans so far are tentative and the cost figures a broad estimate. "This is merely the basis upon which we are starting work to provide Caldwell county with the very best hospital possible," he said. "Even if the estimates of cost made in the application are correct the reserve fund for purchase of site and emergencies is insufficient. I want to urge as strongly as possible the continuation of gifts, and especially the prompt payments of pledges made."

Big Things Planned For Kentucky Lake

By Joe Creason (in Courier-Journal)
One of these days—though still in the future—Kentucky is going to have for itself a modern park in a place where those who should know believe it will do the most good. This is Kentucky Lake State Park, and even persons not accustomed to viewing the world through rose-tinted glasses can see a bright future for this park.

As projected, the park's 1,300 or so acres stretch along the western shore of Kentucky Lake, which supposedly is the largest man-made body of water in existence. Already it is something of a fishing, hunting, boating and swimming paradise; and park experts from all over the country agree that it should become one of the top vacation magnets in the United States once adequate facilities for tourists are provided. Those adequate facilities are what the State Division of Parks is now in the process of providing. Right now $189,403 is

Philip Glenn Is Chosen District Boy Scout Head

Three Rivers Unit Made Good Record In 1947, Reports At Annual Meeting Show

J. Philip Glenn, Kuttawa businessman, was elected chairman of the Three Rivers District, Boy Scouts of America, for 1948, at a meeting held in the K. U. assembly room Tuesday night.

Vice chairmen for the various communities in the district elected were: G. W. Mick, Kuttawa; the Rev. Thos. G. Hackney, Eddyville; R. C. Hopper, Marion; William M. Young, Fredonia, and Grayson Harralson, Princeton. The retiring district chairman, Neil Guess, of Marion, was chosen to be district commissioner.

R. E. Rogers, organization and extension chairman, reported the district enters 1948 with seven troops of Scouts, one Cub pack, with a total of 152 scouts and 34 Cubs, a loss of 31 from 1947's peak. He said however there is good prospect of a new troop at Crayne, which will bring the district's membership up to last year's mark.

R. S. Gregory, advancement chairman, reported one district court of honor was held last year, two troop courts, and that 12 Scouts were advanced to Second Class rank, with 11 merit badges awarded.

The finance report was made by W. L. Mays, showing the district contributed $2,346.22 in 1947, Princeton leading with $1,789, Marion, $450; Eddyville, $71.50, and Kuttawa, $85. The Princeton figure included a reserve fund raised in previous years.

Mr. Guess, on retiring as chairman, which post he had held 2 years, thanked the K. U. for providing a meeting place for many of the district meetings, and commended Scouters for their work. He praised Russell Etker, field executive, who served this district the last several years and who is being transferred to the Louisville office of BSA this week.

Mr. Glenn, accepting the district post, asked for the active aid of all Scouters, to bring the district again up to the high place it has held the last several years in the West Kentucky Area Council. About 25 men, from all the towns in the district, except Eddyville, attended.

The City Charter and duties of officials were discussed at Monday night's Council meeting, it being pointed out that all policemen should execute bonds before assuming duties and statutory officers should be administered oaths.

According to report of retiring Fire Chief Conway Lacey, the fire department answered 39 calls in 1947, the most in any one month being 7 in November. The annual report showed a fire loss for the year of $51,780. December's report showed response to four calls and expense of $105 for firemen's services.

Other reports at the meeting, attended by Councilmen Denham, Jake, Stone, Watson, Wadlington, Mayor Cash presiding, included the retiring treasurer, W. E. McCaslin; Police Judge R. G. McClelland, Police Chief Roy Rosser and retiring Water Superintendent J. C. Sigler, whose report for December showed 1,426 meters in service and receivable accounts of $2,177.07. Receivable accounts for the full year in the water department totaled $27,585.

The monthly report of the police judge showed fines and costs of $521. Police court collections for December were $572, of which $240 represented collections of Chief Rosser, who began duties December 18. Parking meter fines last month were $15. Total fines and cost assessed in Police Court during 1947 totaled $9,258.50, with collections of $7,103.35.

More than $20,000 is available for operating expenses, it was reported. Disbursements last month for operating expenses totaled $4,495.21.

Noted Hypnotist To Appear Friday

Fayssoux To Demonstrate Powers With Audience Volunteers

Fayssoux, noted hypnotist, mental telepathist and escape artist, will appear in two performances at Butler High School auditorium Friday night, under the sponsorship of Princeton Jaycees.

In the interest of continued improvement in living standards in Caldwell county, J. F. Graham, county agent here for 23 years and 2 years ago chairman of a recommendation committee of 39 persons, appointed by the County Board of Education to report on the feasibility of county and city school systems consolidation, said this week:

"Through public subscription bond issue our community has paved the way for meeting one of our greatest needs, 'A Community Hospital', a small but modernly equipped institution that will serve the community well. This will be remembered as our greatest community accomplishment for 1947.

"What about 1948? why not focus our attention, time, energy and efforts to putting into operation a school system for this county, second to none in the state.

"At this particular period, when a large building program is absolutely necessary to provide the facilities for educational training of our boys and girls, is the time to chart a course for the next 50 years. Mistakes at this time will adversely effect the educational opportunities of our youth for years to come.

"We will have a stipulated amount of money from year to year to invest in education, the amount depending on the county tax levy, state and possibly federal appropriations for school purposes. It is our sacred duty to provide the greatest possible educational opportunities to our youth with what we have to do with. The larger the percentage of money available for school purposes that can go into instruction and instruction aids, the higher the level of educational opportunities.

"A one unit school system for the whole county offers greater educational opportunities for our youth, than does our present two unit system, and should be considered solely from the standpoint of educational advantages of our boys and girls. School taxes are not collected for any other purpose.

"It is folly to think we can have duplications in such things as gymnasiums, athletic fields, shops, libraries, equipment for home economic, agriculture, art, commercial and other such departments, administration, etc., all of which are necessary, at the same cost as could be had without duplications. The more efficient means we use in providing these necessities the more will be left for instruction.

"Another great benefit that will come from a one unit system, is the development of a very fine cooperative spirit between rural and urban youth, a spirit that will continue through business life of the community in the future.

"After all, we are one community. We all depend largely on the same thing for our livelihood. We depend on the farm or farm business for our major source of income. A very large percent of the citizens of Princeton were reared and educated in rural communities. Much of the business of Princeton will be conducted in future years by men and women who are now youth in our rural communities.

"A community will never rise above its level of education.

"Buildings and equipment that must be provided within the next two or three years to meet the needs of both our county and city school systems, should be planned and build for an effective one unit system. To meet the requirements of both systems separately will require a vast expenditure that cannot be recovered at some future date.

"The time to bring about this unity in systems is now, before a much needed construction program starts.

"Our greatest accomplishment for 1948 could well be putting into effect a One Unit School System for the county, providing for the greatest educational opportunities with the funds we will have for educational purposes."

"Only The Best Will Survive"

All signs point to a prosperous year and farmers are expected to fare very well in 1948, and for several years . . . but anything can happen this year, when momentous decisions are to be made, and business men and workers are advised against lowering standards of service and performance for "Nothing but the best will survive".

The world never has paid large remuneration for mediocre work, unless we count the high wages of some listless workers during the war effort, and we are sure these were a small minority.

That economists advise the best sort of work to be done this year is, we think, the soundest sort of approach to any new year; perhaps more especially one destined to be fraught with new and taxing emergencies with which none of us is familiar.

The advice quoted is from an address by Ira Porter, a Louisville banker, delivered before the Kiwanis Club there last week. What happens in 1948, Mr. Porter said, "Depends upon what is done to control prices, credits and wages, and on the federal tax program".

Inflation, the kind which brings depression in its wake, is already with us and the Republican controlled Congress has, a St. Louis editor said the other day, "invented a wooden gun as its major weapon" against this dire foe.

One big corporation, General Electric Company, announced a few days since reductions in prices of electric kitchen and household appliances ranging from 3 to 10 percent, in an effort to make a contribution in the fight against rising prices and the inevitable buyers' strike, now feared as the forerunner of a depression.

Kentucky Invites New Industry

Very attractive and, probably, highly effective for the purpose intended were two pieces of Kentucky publicity received at our office last week from the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. One, in the form of an invitation to business and industrial leaders to enjoy the renowned hospitality of the Blue Grass state, was especially appealing to us.

The invitation was signed by Gov. Earle C. Clements and Earl R. Muir, the latter president of the new State Chamber of Commerce, and a Louisville banker who has given largely of his time and talents to forwarding Kentucky's best interests.

Very attractive, in its format, the invitation continues:

"With business looking southward for new industrial locations, Kentucky's strategic market position, ample supply of native labor, great stores of essential raw materials, friendly people, favorable climate and fame for gracious living make

President Truman welcomed the GE gesture, sending the following telegraphic message to Charles E. Wilson, the company's head:

"Your company's announcement of a price reduction for consumer goods is extremely heartening in the nation's fight against inflation. Should other industries follow your example, a real bulwark will be built against rising prices."

The President has repeatedly consulted industry about reducing prices; but he wound up with a GOP anti-inflation bill which seems to put him on the spot, while granting him no real authority to cope with the highly dangerous situation.

Nearly every observant person is aware that politics is playing hob with our economy and, with the presidential election coming this year, both major parties must accept some blame for not helping in the anti-inflation fight.

Mr. Truman asked for power with which to meet this emergency and, we fully believe, would have risked his chances of reelection on the issue had he won the weapons with which to wage the battle he told Congress is necessary. Most of the blame therefore, attaches to the Republicans.

But the threat to every one of us is so great and the price of this folly will be so heavy when the tide turns, that we start 1948 with an admixture of emotions; for altho business is sure to be fine for some months to come, if this inflation ends as all others which have gone before have ended, in unemployment and collapse of many concerns, partisan politics will have cost us dear indeed and our situation is very apt to be the worst in all our history.

the state an ideal place in which to work and enjoy life to the fullest. Our information facilities, both public and private, are at the service of any one desiring complete and accurate data on the many advantages this great commonwealth has to offer. In Kentucky, the gateway to the South, the latchstring is always out. Come visit among us and enjoy the warm welcome of our people."

This sort of thing is right down the alley . . . just what Kentucky has been needing for years. We hope the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce may, in this new year, be implemented properly and adequately with funds, so it can do a lot of this sort of thing; for our State has much to attract outside capital and big business is definitely on the move from more densely populated areas to places where populations are more static and conditions better suited to small factories. Kentucky is ideal for such industry; and Kentucky is easy to sell.

Try Good Neighbor Policy

Whoever started this now old custom of making resolutions on New Year's day did a good job. While a majority probably speak of it in jocular vein, the basic reason for its existence is sound. It is a time for personal inventory, for taking stock, for ascertaining what should be discarded and the replacement of what has come to be as so many words with little meaning with a definite assertion of our intentions. Most of us could be better men and women in 1948 than we were in 1947. We could show improvement in our individual lives. We could live more wholesomely. We could seal our lips against permitting the issue of thoughtless statements. We could be careful to refer to our neighbors and close associates in expressions that prove we think well of them.

On this threshold of the New Year we face many challenges and many opportunities that will count for good or bad when 1949 welcomes us. It is easier to be the good neighbor, the appreciative associate than to be unappreciative and carry on a bad neighbor policy. If we would resolve to so regard those around us for one year we would never fall into the old habit of saying ugly things about people and withholding our appreciation. Every man and woman is worthy of having something good said about them. We may not agree with them. Their attitude toward life in general may not be ours. But if we would take time to consider their entire conduct for a single day it might surprise us to find so many reasons for thinking and speaking well of those neighbors.

Suppose we try that pattern for our own lives at this start of the new year. If you have been carrying a fancied grievance against some fellow and have stalked by him without a smile and pleasant word, try a complete change. You may startle him at first. But if you persist, you will soon find him returning your smile and he will be copying your pleasant greeting with words equally conducive to being a neighbor. Maybe you have not understood his attitude, and have placed the wrong interpretation on it. Stop long enough to be sure of yourself before continuing that objectionable manner of treating some neighbor as a person to be ignored. The perfect man or woman doesn't live in this community, but that individual we may have been considering as one with more than his quota of imperfections isn't so bad.

If you doubt the assertions in the above paragraph take time to think soberly and clearly, and you may be the one responsible for most of the misunderstanding. The man you haven't felt like speaking to may have the same opinion of you, and his cause for aloofness could be better founded than yours against him. A hasty word that provoked a reply in kind has often led to harsh and even insulting remarks, and had that first word been withheld you and the other fellow might have been good friends all the years of your separation. Life is too short to spend it isolated from our neighbors. First find out whether that neighbor did something to arouse your enmity toward him. The first thing that stabs you is that you can't remember what you fell out about. Neither can he.

SPECTACULAR PERFORMERS IN 1947—This chart shows the relation of personal income and wholesale prices in the U. S. for 1947. Wholesale prices were the year's most spectacular performers, although personal income also hit new highs. The wholesale price line (solid line) is based on the Associated Press weighted index of 35 commodities in common use, with the base year of 1926 equalling 100. The personal income chart (broken line) comes from the U. S. Department of Commerce figures with the last two months estimated. It shows in billions the total income of Americans and is derived from wages, salaries, rents, dividends and income of unincorporated enterprises. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

Pennyrite Postscripts By G.M.P.

I have just read with considerable pleasure and appreciation a small booklet by Milt Olander, of Toledo, Ohio, an official of the Owens-Illinois Glass Co., a son-in-law of the late Shell R. Smith and Mrs. Smith, and popular with a wide circle of friends here.

Mr. Olander visited Paris, Mexico City, Montreal and Geneva as a delegate to International Labor conferences. He was in Germany, Sweden, Ireland, and Switzerland. In Ireland he became O'Lander and in Sweden, at Copenhagen, he met his son, Milt, Jr., to their mutual delight.

"Little Insights Abroad," makes no literary pretenses but is a fine down-to-earth account of what this staunch American saw in war-torn Europe, his reaction to war's aftermath and his great appreciation of our way of life when he got back home. Many citizens would benefit by reading this little brochure.

Mary had a little lamb, Its fleece was white, I think. But then it met a scientist— Now it can pass for mink.

I have received a broadside about the new Vari-Typer, a machine which simplifies getting out a newspaper very greatly, its makers claim. The thing looks like a typewriter and will revolutionize methods in many printshops soon, it is claimed. Chicago newspapers are still getting out all editions using typewriter, photo equipment and page-size cuts . . . but the finished product does not look as well as this newspaper.

Radical changes in mechanical devices, to speed printing work and eliminate printers, have come about because of personnel shortages and wage increases. Ingenuity of American inventors in developing new machines to do work formerly performed by hand labor is creating a problem; and of course, strikes give impetus to the use of machines rather than personnel. I do not like the trend . . . but younger men in this business will welcome the innovations, especially if they cut overhead.

They are: "Pardon Me," "Thank You" and "Please."
Oh, use them quite often wherever you go;
There are few words more useful than these.
These five words are filled with power,
That money or fame cannot give.
So commit them to memory this very hour,
And use them as long as you live!

Did You Know?

Brazil exported about as much rubber in 1920 as it did in 1910, but in 1910, the 16 to 20 thousand-ton export was 90 percent of the world supply and in 1920 it was about 10 percent.

In 1916, one of the most serious causes of U. S. auto accidents was "cranking."

In April, 1840, a New York newspaper of the time stated New York had a population of 300,444 and London a population of 2,000,000 but that there were 17 murders in New York and only one in London.

By W. G. Rogers

THE PURPLE PLAIN, by H. E. Bates (Little, Brown; $2.75)

If you read this novel in serial form, you'll probably want to own the book, for while it has the defects of popular fiction, it has virtues that are not usually found in writing which appeals to mass audiences.

It's a love story, and a tender one: Broken-hearted young English flier meets exotic girl in distant, glamorous and ancient Burma. He meets her in the nick of time, too, for the heat and boredom, added to the searing memory of his own personal tragedy in bombed London, have nearly caused his collapse.

Anna with the Frangipani in her dark hair, and other good points, too, of course, is just what the doctor would order for a man like Forrester in an almost comatose state of indifference. She changes his mind; he wanted death, hunting it deliberately day after day in the skies, and now he wants Anna. And love proceeds to work the miracles which we like to think it is capable of. His annoyance at his tent mate becomes gruff affection, sour puss disappears behind smiles, and the bitter taste of life grows sweet.

But it is not cloying, and for that Bates deserves credit. He woos the English language as deftly, sensitively and successfully as his English aviator woos the Burmese maid. There is a feeling for army life, for the great burning plain on which the climax is reached, and, somewhat, for the changing character of Forrester before and after Anna.

It is fundamentally a novel of situation, however, and I find the contrasts between Forrester and his first girl and Forrester and his second girl too pat and ordinary, and the rekindled manhood on the trek across the plain too. Aside from the author's command of language, this resembles the kind of novel that is plotted out with varicolored inks on innumerable cards, the way "how to write" and "how to sell" magazines explain for year's subscription. But it works for this the Literary Guidepost selection for January.

How Pasteurized Milk Safeguards Your Family's Health

Pasteurized milk is not boiled or cooked. It is scientifically heated to a temperature of 143 degrees Fahrenheit, according to State Board of Health regulations, and kept at this temperature for 30 minutes. This destroys all harmful bacteria and does not affect the taste. The illustrative thermometer chart (above) shows the pasteurizing temperature and the particular temperatures at which harmful and deadly germs are killed. Maintenance of this 143 degree temperature is necessary to permanently obliterate the germs.

4-D Controls Wild Onions

Wild onions and wild garlic may be controlled by spraying with 2,4-D according to tests conducted at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. Where 2.3 pounds of actual 4-D acid in 100 gallons of water was applied an acre in late March and early April, stands of wild garlic were reduced two-thirds almost 100 percent. The ethyl acetate and butyl ester forms of 4-D proved more effective than the acid form. Wild onions sprayed in late April with 2.3 pounds of 2,4-D acid in the ester form were all dead by early June and no plants emerged in the fall. Farmers growing grass seed for certification such as Ky. 31 Fescue, orchard grass, etc., might use this method of controlling onions and garlic very effectively. Practically all clovers are susceptible to 2,4-D.

When spraying care should be taken to keep far enough away from shrubs and other desirable broad leaved plants that might be injured by the drift.

Heavy concentrations of the sodium salt form of 2,4-D is an effective control.

Fescue seed fields should be sprayed in late March or early April. At that time garlic and onions are at a very susceptible stage and Ky. 31 Fescue is in a resistant condition. Delaying the treatment until the fescue is in the boot stage might result in reduced grass seed yields.

Milking Machines Operated By Jeeps

Jeeps are being used by Bentley Stokes and Sherman Hansel, young farmers of the Green Hill neighborhood, to operate the first milkers ever to be installed in Rockcastle county. They have herds of six and eight cows. The first parturizer in the county also is reported by Farm Agent Robert Spence, Frank Houston having installed one in a new milk room. Houston has a herd of 22 cows, then buys additional milk in the neighborhood to supply his market.

Small Flock Pays

Two hundred White Leghorn hens brought a profit of $573.10 to Henry Brown of Southern Madison county, according to his record turned in to the county agent. At a cost of $41.80, the flock produced 33,947 eggs. Cash sales amounted to $989.90.

News representing lives, hopes, dreams and ambitions of those who made up the populace of Princeton and Caldwell county almost 40 years ago recorded nowhere but in the yellowed files of Twice-A-Week Leader of those years will be published as a regular feature. The articles are reproduced just as the Princeton reporters, shortly after the turn of the century, wrote them.

Good Layers Are Necessary Now

With poultry feed costing $4.50 to $5 a hundred pounds, only high-laying pullets produce at a profit, says J. E. Humphrey of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

If $5 feed is used, and 60 out of 100 pullets lay, the feed cost of eggs is put at 31 cents a dozen. If only 40 percent of the pullets lay, the cost jumps to 43 cents a dozen. If 80 out of 100 lay the feed cost is only 25 cents a dozen. But if only 10 percent of the birds lay, production cost would be $1.56 a dozen. Feed represents 60 percent of the total cost of producing eggs.

lay. rate	$4.50 cwt.	$5 cwt.
10%	$1.40 a doz.	$1.56 a doz.
20%	.73	1.08
30%	.50	.56
40%	.39	.43
50%	.32	.36
60%	.28	.31
70%	.25	.27
80%	.22	.25

Mr. Humphrey lists the following ways to help keep up egg production:

1. Have high-laying producing stock.
2. Feed and house carefully and keep diseases under control.
3. Use lights in laying house to make 15 hours of daylight.
4. Give pullets a wet mash once a day, preferably at noon.
5. Keep water free from ice during cold weather.

When absolutely dust free air is confined in a chamber, its temperature may be reduced to very low levels without any condensation to cause fog, but admission of a small puff of dust-laden air into the chamber will then cause fog to form.

Flock Lays Well

The 205 New Hampshire pullets owned by Herbert McGaha of Adair county laid 3,350 eggs in November, worth $139.58. Laying mash, yellow corn and oystershell cost $69.69, leaving a profit of nearly $50. The flock was culled during the month, 15 of the less-desirable birds bringing $20.

It is estimated that about 86 percent of workers in U. S. industries have paid vacations. Honduras has about the same area as Pennsylvania.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Half Of People Church Members

Information on Kentucky churches, published by the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, says there are approximately 1,400,000 church members and 7,600 churches in the state. Forty-nine percent of Kentucky people are members of churches. One-fourth of the population of the state is enrolled in Sunday School.

Church membership ranges from less than 10 percent of the population in some sections of Kentucky to over 60 percent in other sections. The lowest membership is in southeastern counties and the highest in north-central counties. Church attendance relative to membership, however, is higher in the former counties than in the latter, according to the report, which was written by Dr. Harold F. Kaufman, rural sociologist.

Eighty-five religious bodies reported one or more churches in Kentucky. Twenty of them account for 85 percent of the church membership, and the two largest, Southern Baptist and Catholic, account for half of the membership.

The average size of churches in the Bluegrass region was found to be 219 members as compared to 63 members for the average Eastern Kentucky church. One-half of the churches, in this sample representing 22 counties, had preaching services each Sunday.

Sound Effects

In Nickelodeon Days

Denver.—(AP)—John T. McParland, retiring at 71 as superintendent of the city auditorium, recalls that in the silent movie days, former Mayor Robert Speer insisted on a free show for the public every Sunday.

"Eighteen of us used to go crazy trying to give realistic sound effects for those shows," McParland said. "We had rock crushers, steam whistles and fire bells back of the screen and a 35-piece orchestra out front."

"We had a war picture one Sunday. I got hold of the adjutant general of the state national guard and he loaned me a Gatling gun. There was no blank ammunition for the gun, so he had an entire company stay up Saturday night digging the slugs out of the bullets. The theater even smelled like a battlefield after that show."

Clements Says Task Is To Make Kentucky Better

Governor Pledges To Keep Budget Within Income; Hopes To Attract New Industries

(By Associated Press)
Louisville — Declaring that he and others in the State administration viewed their election as a challenge, Gov. Earle C. Clements said "We believe it is our task to make Kentucky a better place to live."

The Governor spoke on a program over Radio Station WHAS with the mayors of Louisville and New Albany and Jeffersonville, Ind.

The Governor viewed seriously events which may transpire in 1948. He said "We have accepted the responsibility to provide better roads and highways, to find new sources of income, new uses for our land and the natural resources in which Kentucky is so richly endowed."

He said this will be a year of decision in which the "freedom of many peoples will be decided. The best way to guarantee the freedom of others is to preserve freedom and liberty at home."

The Governor declared that State officials will seek cooperation and good-will in governmental matters "which affect the daily lives of all Kentuckians."

Others on the program were Mayors E. Leland Taylor, of Louisville, San Shannon, of Jeffersonville, and C. Pralle, of New Albany.

Earlier, the Governor addressed the Louisville Board of Trade's annual meeting, where he pledged to keep the State budget for the next biennium within anticipated income, and outlined generally some of the things that are to be given the legislature for consideration.

He said he was hopeful of developing a program to supplement income of many rural Kentuckians, declared the rural road program must be expanded and touched on taxes by stating he would recommend a community property tax proposal designed to minimize as far as possible the impact of federal income taxes.

He said also that he would recommend a downward revision of inheritance taxes, an exemption of pay of servicemen and women from state income taxes while on active duty, and such relief from payments already made by military personnel as is constitutionally possible.

Clements said he was against a general retail sales tax, against any further tax on real estate and against a tax on Kentucky's coal.

Eugene Barrett Is New Employee At Goldnamer's

Eugene Barrett, former employee of Wylie and Williamson, who has been attending the University of Kentucky the last several months, has accepted a position with the Goldnamer Department Store, and assumed his new duties January. He is married to the former Wanda Jones and they have a small daughter. Barrett, a veteran of World War II, succeeds Urey Nichols, an employee of the store the last 20 years, who resigned to enter business with his brother-in-law, Bill Blackburn. They plan to open a shoe store in Dawson Springs. Blackburn has been employed at the Princeton Shoe Co. the last four years.

Five Enlist In Army At Local Recruiting Office

Enlisted at the Princeton army recruiting station during the last two weeks were: veterans Clifford Ladd, Signal Corps, Robert F. Lanham and Lewis K. Thomas, Medical Corps, and William E. Wilson and Philip S. Robertson, Air Corps.

Former servicemen, serving outside the United States since December 2, 1945, may now enlist for three years, to grade four, in units of their own choice now garrisoned in the Zone Interior. S.Sgt. Bert Lieber, recruiter, said this week. Further information may be obtained at the recruiting office.

gun or due to start in the more or less immediate future. This work will be in the day-use sections of both Kentucky Lake and Cherokee, and most of the facilities should be ready for use by next summer. These sums will be the main expenditures in the white park:

Beach, seawall and bath house.....$43,000
Superintendent's home and service buildings.....19,000
Water and sewage.....25,000
Picnic area (tables, latrines, shelters).....10,000
Entrance and landscaping 17,000
Play area.....4,000
Concession building.....5,000
Dock for small water craft 1,200

The Cherokee cut of present funds is $42,000 to be used in this manner:

Bath and concession house.....$26,000
Custodian's house and service building.....8,000
Water Works.....5,000
Picnic area.....3,000

Further development cannot come until the Legislature appropriates more money or until a bond issue is approved. When the necessary $654,000 is provided, these vacation facilities will be erected at Kentucky Lake Park:

Water works.....$75,000
50-room hotel.....225,000
25 cabins.....105,000
Sewerage.....21,000
Recreation and play area 18,000
Group camp for 100.....25,000
Tent and trailer camp.....8,000
Furniture for hotel, cabins 58,000
Tea room, concession, docks, etc.....50,000

Cherokee Park would get $69,000 more from this appropriation and it would be used this way:

Group camp for 50 persons.....$15,000
Seven cabins.....30,000
More day-use facilities.....7,000
Water and sewerage.....10,000
Electric wiring (for whole park).....7,000

Practically all the work will be of masonry, probably some of sort of precast blocks. At present the State Highway Department has work crews in the park, preparing roads and parking areas. A contract for the seawall around the bathing beach has been let.

So far most of the construction along the Lake, which was completed in 1943, has been private, but a number of tourist courts have mushroomed up. The tremendous business done by these courts is an indication of what may be expected later. Naturally, fishing is the big magnet of the lake. At times the bass fishing has been called unsurpassed anywhere in the nation. Jack salmon, catfish, bream, crappie and other species of fish also can be found.

The possibility of the State taking over the village at the dam site, some 15 miles below the park that the T. V. A. built for workers has been discussed, too.

Cliff Grandson Severely Burned In Illinois Saturday

Harry Lee Cliff, 5-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Cliff, Dawson Road, is in a Harrisburg, Ill., hospital with severe burns on his left leg received Saturday when playing at a burning rubbish pile near his home there. The child's father, Rudy Cliff, said his son was kicking in the flames when his clothes caught fire. The lad's mother was burned on the hands while attempting to smother the burning clothes with a coat.

About 75 percent of the dyes made in the United States are used in textiles.

The beach will be located on a beautiful little inlet between the lake proper and Terrapin Beach, the inlet on which Higgins Boat Dock now is located. The seawall will range up to four feet in height in places and a 15-foot-wide sand beach will extend down both sides of the wall.

The location of the hotel still has not been selected definitely. First plans called for locating it between Terrapin Branch and Cool Creek, another large inlet of Ledbetter Creek. However, there has been some talk of building it on a high bluff on the south side of Ledbetter Creek.

This would remove it entirely from the day-use areas. The major drawback to this site no doubt would be the fact that a road would have to be built over to it from Kentucky Route 94, which runs to Murray. Then, too, it would be on the other side of the inlet from the main entrance of the park, which will be at the point where Kentucky 94 branches off from U. S. 68.

Actually the park has a near-ideal location. It extends on both sides of U. S. 68, the main route through that section, and is about equal distance from Murray and Benton, some 15 miles. Cadiz is 18 miles on the other side of the lake, while Mayfield is 30 miles west and Paducah 40 miles north.

The possibility of the State taking over the village at the dam site, some 15 miles below the park that the T. V. A. built for workers has been discussed, too.
